

CORE HYDRATION® AND CLASSPASS TEAM UP TO HYDRATE THE MASSES ON NATIONAL HYDRATION DAY

The Water Brand to Giveaway Ten Free ClassPass Class Credits to 4,000 users on June 23 to Help Consumers Find Their Core

FRISCO, Texas, June 15, 2023 – In celebration of National Hydration Day on June 23, water brand, Core Hydration®, and ClassPass, the leading fitness and wellness membership, are encouraging consumers to prioritize hydration as part of their wellness journey. Whether it's stretching at yoga, boxing, or relaxing at a sound bath, Core Hydration® will help consumers find their balance through hydration and fitness. In honor of National Hydration Day on June 23rd, Core Hydration is giving the first 4,000 ClassPass users who check out the hydration tips on this blog post from the ClassPass app 10 free credits! Not on ClassPass? Core® is providing a one-month free trial to new members*.

Core Hydration® and ClassPass share a similar approach to wellness – it is not one-size-fits-all and instead is a personal journey driven by what motivates, moves, and hydrates each individual. National Hydration Day has historically served as a commemorative day on the importance of drinking water, and together Core Hydration® and ClassPass will remind consumers to prioritize their hydration routine not just on National Hydration Day, but throughout what is forecasted to be one of the hottest summers on record.

“At Core Hydration®, we believe that wellness is different for everyone, and it is important to find your balance, in whatever way works for you. This personalized approach is why we are excited to partner with ClassPass for National Hydration Day and encourage people to make hydration and wellness a priority on their own terms,” said Kelli Freeman, Senior Vice President of Marketing, Keurig Dr Pepper, Inc. “We look forward to seeing how Core Hydration® drinkers and ClassPass users are celebrating and hydrating, and working toward their wellness goals this summer.”

Additionally, on National Hydration Day, ClassPass will partner with their top studios across the U.S. to distribute complimentary bottles of Core Hydration® to attendees.

“As we have seen our lives get busier, we often forget to nourish the basics that help to keep our body and mind thriving. We are thrilled to partner with Core Hydration® this National Hydration Day to remind members to continue to prioritize their wellness, in whatever way that means to them,” said Ivy Wu, Vice President of Growth at ClassPass.
